

IMPROVEMENT IN WEST END WITH
GASOLINE FUND*Public Hearings on Two Projects Set for February 13

The improvement of almost one mile of extensively travelled roads in the west end of the city under the gas tax refund program, has been outlined by the city council and notices were mailed out yesterday to property owners residing along the route of the proposed improvement—the Pump Factory road from Third street south to the city limits and the Rock Island road from Fourth street and Lincoln avenue, west to the city limits.

City Attorney Martin Gannon in the absence of Mayor G. C. Dixon, explained the project to the council last evening. Three types of improvement have been considered, cement street with combined concrete curb and gutter, at an estimated cost of $29,500; combined concrete curb and gutter with a rolled macadam surface at an estimated cost of $22,500; and a bituminous macadam surface at a cost of $22,100.

Owners' Share Little

The city attorney informed the council that the cost of this improvement to the property owners would amount to not more than ten per cent of the total, which would be spread over a ten-year payment plan, adding that this would be one of the cheapest improvements to the property owner that had ever been proposed in Dixon. A public hearing on the project will be conducted at the council chamber next Tuesday evening, Feb. 13, at 7:30.

Frank C. Sproul filed a claim with the council, seeking to collect the sum of $182.63 which he claims for damages to property controlled by him in the building of the Peoria avenue and Boyd street improvements several months ago. The filing of the claim brought on some discussion by the council members.

Commissioner John H. Loftus expressed himself as being opposed to the payment of such claims and added:

"It is rather unusual that the majority of the property owners in that locality, after several months, are filing claims for damages against the city. All are claiming damages but none are admitting improvements to their property. If these property owners want damages and threaten suit against the city, then I am in favor of letting them sue, and this council will not then be criticised for the paying out of public funds continually."

Gets New Trial

City Attorney Gannon informed the council that last Saturday he filed a motion for a new trial, which was granted, in the case of the estate of Emil Schertner against the city in a similar action.

Edwin Barlow appeared before the council and objected to the construction work now under way at the new Dixon Municipal airport. He stated that certain drainage systems, which were under construction, permitted waste water to run onto his land, the site of the former airport. Attorney Gannon stated that he would investigate the condition.

Commissioner Loftus renewed the complaint on the junk yard which is operating on Highland avenue near Fourth street and asked the City Attorney if any action had been taken to move the collection of junk. Attorney Gannon replied that he had the word of the owners to move the contents of the yard by February 27. Commissioner Loftus complained of the junk firm's operation of several junk yards in various parts of the city under one license.

The application of Henry Bott for a city license to conduct a retail liquor business at 114 Peoria avenue, was granted.

The regular monthly bills were read and ordered paid. In the absence of Mayor Dixon, Commissioner George Campbell presided at the meeting.

Next week's council meeting will be held on Tuesday evening instead of Monday which is Lincoln's birthday, a legal holiday in Illinois.

Pneumonia is Fatal to Miss Mildred L.
Helrich Last Eve

Miss Mildred L. Helrich, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Helrich, who reside east of Dixon in South Dixon township, passed away at 8 o'clock last evening at the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital, death resulting from pneumonia. She is survived by her parents; four brothers, Edwin, George Russell and Raymond; and three sisters, Alice, Ethel and Grace, all at home. Two sisters and one brother preceded her in death.

Funeral services will be conducted from St. Paul's Lutheran church Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the pastor, Rev. Lloyd W. Walter, officiating and with interment in Oakwood.

INDICTMENT STRIKEN

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 6—(AP)—The criminal indictment charging the late Garrett Def. Kinney, former State Treasurer, with failure to turn over to his successor as Finance Director $173,832.33 in state funds was stricken by Circuit Judge L. E. Stone today on motion of State's Attorney A. M. Greening. Faced with a civil suit, Kinney shot himself last summer.

Explanation for Taylorville Rainbow Today Offered

Taylorville, Ill., Feb. 6—(AP)—There was a rainbow in the sky where, to paraphrase the skipper of the schooner Hesperus, no rainbow ought to be.

Taylorville residents this morning gazed at a beautiful rainbow in a cloudless sky, and demanded an explanation. No rain had fallen recently and none was in the offing.

The Weather Bureau at Springfield gave a much more mundane explanation. It is possible, the Taylorville rainbow gazers were told, that a smoke stack in the city was giving off vapors which, when they came between persons on the street and the sun, created the effect of a rainbow.

Another explanation advanced by the Weather Bureau was that of a solar halo. This, it was said, could be seen in an apparently cloudless sky and was caused by the sun shining through small ice particles high in the sky.

NORTHWESTERN'S EMPLOYEES WILL VOTE ON STRIKE*Ballots, Prepared by Union Officials, to be Mailed Men

Chicago, Feb. 6—(AP)—As the result of failure of officials of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad to reply to a list of 507 alleged grievances, the road's 26,000 employees are scheduled to vote on whether to strike.

A committee representing 13 railway labor unions began preparation for ballots when the committee announced it decided that the railroad had "arbitrarily discontinued certain adjustment boards and refuses to arbitrate many cases at great financial loss to union members."

William Bishop, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen said a vote would be held because "a terrible reduction in force has taken place in recent years, and many men who have been with the company for years have now been disqualified and have lost their turn."

Fred Sargent, president of the railroad, said labor officials were objecting to discipline enforced by the road against some employees "because they failed to obey strict safety rules of the company."

"It is significant," he said, "that the workmen themselves have not complained. For some strange reason the union officials are revising disciplinary matters that were settled as long ago as two or three years."

DR. WYNEKOOP'S
RETRIAL IS SET
ON FEBRUARY 19*Accused Woman Believed Able to Stand Ordeal

Chicago, Feb. 6—(AP)—A retrial of Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop for the death of her daughter-in-law, Rheta Gardner Wynekoop, today was set for Feb. 19 before Judge Harry B. Miller of the Criminal Court.

Her health seemingly improved by hospitalization in the county jail since she collapsed two weeks ago during the course of her first trial, the 63-year-old defendant declared she wanted the retrial started as soon as possible.

"I want to vindicate myself and clear the lives of my children," she said. "I feel I did better than I did during the first trial."

Jail physicians said they believed Dr. Wynekoop's ailing heart, high blood pressure and other ailments had responded sufficiently to treatment so that she might go through the second court ordeal.

There have been no major changes in outlines of the case and contents since earliest times, says the Smithsonian Institution.

Japanese-Russian War Soon
Seen by Chinese Editor and Russian-born Far East Expert

Philadelphia, Feb. 6—(AP)—Fear that Japan may go to war against Russia next spring and that the rest of the world may be drawn into the conflict is expressed by Dr. Maurice Hindus, author on Russian problems.

Addressing the Philadelphia Lecture Assembly last night, Dr. Hindus, who was born in Russia and educated in this country, asserted Russia does not want war but has armed for defense.

He stated Japan's motive in going to war would be for the rapid development of iron, steel and machine production in Russia. He predicted that in event of war, Japan might do great damage to Russia, but expressed conviction that Japan would be defeated.

FAIRBANKS IS NAMED IN LORD
ASHLEY'S SUIT*American Actor Named Correspondent In Divorce Case

London, Feb. 6—(AP)—Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., American film star, was served notice today that he has been named as correspondent in a divorce action instituted by young Lord Ashley against the doll-like Lady Ashley.

Lord Ashley, 33, secluded himself at Swindon, 70 miles from London. A member of the household told The Associated Press that he "has nothing to say at this time."

Lord Ashley, whose family is one of the most impressive in England, was educated at Eton and the Royal Military College at Sandhurst—which is the English West Point—and at Cambridge University. He is a member of the Marlborough Club in London, a haunt of the late King Edward.

Estranged Since 1928

He and his pretty, brown-haired wife, the former Sylvia Hawkes of the stage, have been estranged since January 1928, after less than a year of wedded life.

She and Lord Ashley were married after his father, former president of the English Church Union, issued a statement that there would be no wedding.

The parents made a dramatic motorcar dash to London on the day of the wedding in an eleventh hour effort to halt the ceremony. Fairbanks has been in London off and on ever since Mary Pickford started her divorce suit against him in December.

During the early winter he toured southern Europe, but returned to London six weeks ago and completed arrangements for taking a leading role in two British-made films.

Reported Together

Fairbanks and Lady Ashley have been reported seen frequently at parties in London's West End, often with Douglas, Jr., and Gertrude Lawrence, popular musical comedy star.

Young Fairbanks told the Daily Mail yesterday that he and Miss Lawrence had "discussed marriage, but have taken no decision."

News of the filing of the petition with Gordon, Dadds & Company, solicitors, proved a sensation in London society, particularly in view of the conservative traditions of Lord Ashley's family and there was much speculation whether either defendant would elect to contest the case.

Final Possibilities

If there is a contest the case will probably not come before the courts for several months. The defendants have eight days in which to enter an appearance. If the case is uncontested it might come to trial as early as April 12.

Lady Ashley, residing in the Mayfair district, flatly declined to make any comment on the case.

Fairbanks maintained a "dignified silence"—even as he did during his marital troubles with Mary Pickford, his equally famous wife, whose divorce action still is pending in California.

He was secluded today in a stately country home near London. His London representative declined to reveal the whereabouts of his friend's most famous actor of film-making roles, saying such revelation would be "unfair to the friends he is visiting."

Funeral of A. W.
Kramer Will be
In Castalia, Iowa

The funeral of Arthur W. Kramer, former Dixon merchant, whose sudden death at his home, 318 Gale avenue, Monday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock, was announced in last evening's Telegraph, will be held at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at Castalia, Iowa, Rev. Hemphre officiating, and with burial at Pleasant View cemetery there. Dixon friends, wishing to view the body, may do so Wednesday afternoon and evening at the Kramer home.

Mr. Kramer, a resident of Dixon for the past 27 years, was born in Castalia, Feb. 1, 1866, being a son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Kramer. On June 20, 1900 he was united in marriage to Ida M. Buckman. He is survived by his widow and two sisters, Mrs. G. C. Tate of Northwood, Ia., and Mrs. A. M. Thomas of Georgia.

Japanese-Russian war soon would not surprise Dr. Fong Foo-Sec of Shanghai, one-time Sacramento, Calif., laborer, who rose to leadership in his country's educational affairs and who today completes a good-will visit to the United States.

Dr. Fong, member of the board of Rotary International, attended his meeting in Chicago this month, then visited Rotary clubs in Illinois and Ohio.

"There has been so much friction between Japan and Russia I would not be surprised to pick up a newspaper almost any day and learn they have gone to war," commented the 65-year-old retired editor—who appears 40 or younger—in an interview.

Each day's release will also carry a striking photograph of one of Hollywood's celebrities. The first of this sparkling series of illustrations appears in the Dixon Telegraph tomorrow.

Mae West Dead: Trusted Her Many Admirers too Much

New York, Feb. 6—(AP)—Mae West, as graceful and streamlined a sea lion as ever gulled down a mackerel, is dead—a victim of man's perfidy.

She trusted her admirers too much (most of them were sailors), and they did her wrong.

Officials of Bronx Zoo announced today that the reason Mae is no longer swimming in her tank is that she was wont to accept everything folks tossed to her. A post-mortem examination disclosed that she had eaten several pounds of stones and buttons—sailors' buttons.

Zoo officials attributed her death to indigestion, but consoled themselves with the thought she would have drowned anyway if a few more buttons and stones had come her way.

OFFICIALS' ACTS
IN BREMER CASE
NOT SUCCESSFUL*Eleven Men Arrested;
No Trace of Missing Bank Head

St. Paul, Feb. 6—(AP)—Authorities have struck, but without success, in an initial effort to solve the $200,000 kidnaping of Edward Bremer, wealthy banker, abducted January 11.

Eleven men, carrying $4,000, were arrested yesterday and last night at Owatonna, Minn., in the hope they might furnish information leading to a solution of the case. But Chief of Police Thomas Dahill announced after questioning them that he was convinced they had no connection with Bremer's abduction.

Dahill said one automatic pistol was found among the gang when they were captured in an apartment house in which they had been living since Jan. 10.

May Be Aiky Thieves

There was a possibility, Dahill said, the men might be linked with the $36,584 theft Sunday of 5,519 gallons of denatured alcohol here. They were questioned about this and bank robberies in Minnesota.

Although Melvin Passolt, chief of the State Bureau of Criminal Apprehension, pointed out there have been no bank "jobs" in the state of late that would net $4,000.

Walter Macee, wealthy contractor or friend of the missing banker, whose blood stained automobile was found abandoned shortly after his abduction last month, declared the ransom money in $5 and $10 bills had not been paid. The family still awaited communication from the gang, hopeful some sign would be conveyed to them soon that would convince them the 37-year-old banker still was alive.

Suggests Govt.*Make Own Cement

Washington, Feb. 6—(AP)—Secretary Ickes as Public Works Administrator today referred to the Federal Trade Commission the question of possible collusion in bids for cement contracts.

Advancing a "personal suggestion" that the government itself enter the cement manufacturing business, he proposed that such a project might be handled in connection with the Tennessee Valley Authority. It also can be linked with a subsistence homestead project, he said.

"I am not speaking for the administration," he emphasized.

The report will remain secret until the arrival tomorrow of General John Metaxas, Minister of the Interior.

"All I can say is that my colleague and I are in complete accord," Prof. Benlis stated. "We believe the report is completely clear, logical and accurate."

He denied a rumor that it certified Insull was able to travel only if there is no danger of his displaying great emotion, but refused to divulge the report's contents.

MADMAN WIELDS
KNIFE IN RADIO
STUDIO; 1 KILLED*Lost His Reason Suddenly While Seeking Job in Los Angeles

Los Angeles, Feb. 6—(AP)—Clarence Walter, who ran amuck in a Los Angeles radio station, killing one man and injuring another, was held in a strait jacket today for observation.

The 41-year-old former Huntley Mont, wheat field worker, told a rambling story of having written to station KJL for work and going there in response to a song which summoned him.

When Miss Grace Kane, studio secretary, questioned him yesterday about his imagined position, Walter became enraged and drew a jackknife.

Miss Kane screamed. Edwin A. Wolverton, 21, radio announcer on vacation from KFKJ, at Grand Junction, Colo., ran into the room, stepping into an arc of the swooping knife blade. It pierced his skull, fatally injuring him.

Screams Brought Aid

The screaming of Miss Kane, Walter's shouted threats and the cries of the dying man brought a dozen others, one of whom was unpowered. One hundred fifty women in an adjacent room listening to a cooking school broadcast were terrified and many listeners telephoned to learn the cause of the outbreak, which interrupted the program.

Hours later Walter told his rambling tale of trying to get a job with the station with promises to "put blue rings around the moon." He remembered going after the job but recalled nothing of his rampage. Told of Wolverton's death he seemed incredulous—"then I killed an innocent man."

A brother, Frank Walter, Santa Ana, Calif., said Clarence had been acting strangely recently and was "quite crazy" five years ago.

Schuler was driving his car, which skidded on the snow-covered paving a short distance east of DeKalb and crashed into a ditch.

Schuler was thrown from the car as it left the paving. He was returned to DeKalb where his injuries were dressed and then returned to his home in Dixon. He sustained one broken rib and was bruised about the legs. The car was considerably damaged and was hauled to a DeKalb garage.

Former Bank Room

The offices of the National Farm Loan Assn. and the Production Credit Assn., of both of which L. E. Griffith is Secretary-Treasurer, are being moved from the second floor of the Wilcox building in Amboy to the room formerly occupied by the Amboy State Bank. The increased business of the two corporations, which now occupies the time of six people, has made the larger quarters necessary, it was stated today.

Loans totalling over $2,000,000 are being negotiated in the district which these associations cover. Attorney Wm. Kehoe, who also occupied offices in the Wilcox building, is moving with Mr. Griffith.

Hog Market Rose With Short Supply

Chicago, Feb. 6—(AP)—The hog market was sharply higher in price today with the extreme top at $4.65, highest paid here since Oct. 23, 1933.

A sensational reduction in receipts was the chief factor in boosting prices. The run of 15,000 was but little more than half the number estimated yesterday, 26,000, and only a third of last Tuesday's receipts of 43,000.

Prices ranged from 15 to 30 cents higher in a wild scramble for supplies by all interests.

Chicago, Feb. 6—(AP)—Improvement in the condition of Patricia Maguire, unconscious from sleeping sickness two years this coming Feb. 15, has slowed down.

The voice of her sister, Mrs. Charles W. Hansen, was discouraged today as she discussed the condition of the pretty 28-year-old Oak Park girl.

Around Christmas Patricia had shown signs, interpreted by Mrs. Hansen; their mother, Mrs. Peter Miley, and the girl's nurse, as nearing consciousness. The doctors, too, Mrs. Miley had reported, were encouraged.

MURDERERS OF STEEL WORKER
SEEK WEDDING*Granite City Killers' Request Is Not Granted

Edwardsville, Ill., Feb. 6—(AP)—In the county jail here facing first-degree murder charges in the slaying of her husband, Mrs. Gertrude Puhse and Thomas Lehne, each 43, today hoped for permission of authorities to be married.

Authorities indicated the request would not be granted.

As they were being brought from Granite City, where Charles W. Puhse, 47, a steel worker, was slain as he slept early on the morning of Jan. 26, Lehne asked Patrolman Albert Rawdon and Deputy Sheriff Harry Odum to "stop for a minute so we can be married." Mrs. Puhse said she was willing, but the officers rejected the proposal.

Lehne, a former Venice policeman, and Mrs. Puhse, Sheriff Peter Fitzgerald said, confessed Lehne shot Puhse to death after plotting for months to get rid of him.

Mrs. Puhse is the mother of two children, Earl, 19, and Mildred, 22. Lehne, a widower, is the father of a 9-month-old son.

The woman was the former Miss Helen Hawkins of Los Angeles, the daughter of Rex Hawkins of New York and his divorced wife, Mrs. Rose Payne of Hollywood, Calif.

Her husband was Dr. Carlo Orsini. Their child was two-and-a-half years old.

HALLENBERG IS ADMINISTRATOR OF CWA IN LEE*Is Appointed to Important Position Today
by State Chief

Chicago, Feb. 6—(AP)—The appointment of CWA Administrators for 10 Illinois counties was announced today by Howard O. Hunter, acting head of the civil works program in the state.

The administrators will have complete charge of CWA work in their counties. In telegrams notifying them of their selection, Hunter informed the new officials that the County Relief Commissions have agreed to continue "personal and services" for the CWA and will aid the administrators.

Chairmen of the county relief bodies were chosen to serve as administrators in nine of the ten counties. The men appointed are:

Lee County, Robert Hallenberg; Massac County, S. C. Artman; Jo Daviess, Robert L. McKague; Kendall, Glynn A. Jones; Hardin, Otis Lamar; Crawford, T. B. Steele; Henry, B. F. Baker; Gallatin, Gen. Orval P. Townsend; Boone, E. O. Andrews; Carroll, Charles Jenks.

Up until today the Civil Works program has been administered by the county Emergency Relief Committee, but upon the installation of Mr. Hallenberg this morning as County Administrator of the Federal Civil Works Administration, the Lee County Emergency Relief Committee is completely divorced from all CWA activities. The committee will continue to administer the Illinois Emergency Relief work in the county, which is the agency which provides food and other necessities of life for unemployed citizens of the county.

Reagan to Continue

It is understood that J. E. Reagan will continue his present duties as certifying officer for the CWA and that Mr. Hallenberg will be in complete charge of all CWA activities in the county.

The selection of Mr. Hallenberg, which is considered a very fine solution to the problem because of his unquestionable ability and integrity, was made by two CWA investigators from the Chicago office, who consulted with D. H. Spencer and O. F. Goeke and in their quest for the right man for the very important task of supervising the many CWA projects under way in the county, the new ones which may develop and the expenditure of great sums of Federal money.

To Pay Men Direct

Beginning with the next wage payment of CWA workers in Lee county, checks will be distributed to the men on the works, instead of being mailed as they have since the project was begun.

Orders to organize the new system of payroll distribution were received yesterday afternoon by Lester Wilhelm and Howard Byers, local County Treasury Department representatives in the relief work. They have been asked to estimate the number of paymasters it will be necessary to appoint to distribute the checks throughout the county each week.

These paymasters will receive the checks from

Hazardous Uncertainties!

JAN. 28: Where is Arthur Abele?

Is he on the Jacob Ruppert, drifting on the Bay of Whales unable to reach the ice wall to unload equipment or to take marooned men aboard? Or is he with the 43 men on the ice at Pressure Camp, four miles from the edge, where some of the supplies had been dumped by tractors and dog teams from the ship before the crumbling of the bay ice and the great Ross Barrier of ice cliffs sent a million square yards of the ice sliding into the sea? Or is he one of the four men at Little America in need of warmth and food?

John Muir, Third Mate, the Mackay Radio and Byrd Headquarters, that every body, ashore and afloat, is safe. We have radioed to young Abele twice during the past week, once using him to rush his weekly story of the exciting happenings down there. Then, hearing of the terrific struggle they are having to establish themselves in those awful surroundings, we radioed him to forget his stories until everybody is safe and settled.

The situation in the Bay of Whales is an amazing one, full of the most hazardous uncertainties. Little America and all the surrounding territory for hundreds of miles is not located on land. It is located on ice, sometimes hundreds of feet thick, and under it is water 1600 feet deep. Every year some of this ice breaks off but the vast bulk of it has remained more or less stationary for more than 80 years, probably anchored to land miles and miles away. During the past few years a slow movement of the ice toward the sea has been under way, as indicated by enormous pressure ridges which have been built up by the irresistible push of the slowly moving inland ice against the ice near the edge of the water. Admiral Byrd made a flight this week (January 26) and reported that some of these ridges extend further than the eye can see. This year, Antarctica is having an unusually warm summer. The temperature is hovering way up around the freezing mark—32 degrees Fahrenheit. This is melting the ice which is crumbling for countless square miles.

If you look at the map the Club has sent you, you will see that this huge ice area is believed to extend all the way back to Carmen Land, almost 500 miles. And if the weather does not get colder and freeze it, it may all slide suddenly into the sea, taking Little America and everything with it. It will almost certainly be necessary to undertake the cruel and superhuman task of moving the houses, radio masts and hundreds of tons of equipment of Little America further back, maybe several times, if the Admiral decides to go on with his plan of wintering on the ice with 45 men. If he deems it too risky, or if the Jacob Ruppert is not able to unload her 600 tons of supplies by February 10th, it may be necessary to abandon the entire plan until next December. And between Little America and the edge of the ice are pressure ridges impossible for the three tractors to negotiate and almost impossible for the dog teams. The Antarctic winter is about to begin. If she is caught in the ice when the sea freezes she will almost certainly be squeezed so that her plates will be crushed in. That is why she must get out of there and back to New Zealand before the freeze sets in. Admiral Byrd has set February 10 as the deadline. Meanwhile the good old wooden Bear of Oakland, with an ice-breaker bow 26 feet thick, is coming south through the Ross ice pack.

The reason the Ruppert is having difficulty unloading is that the ice has gone out of the Bay of Whales, which is nine miles wide and 20 miles long. Usually there is a great solid ice pack at the Bay's entrance with occasional leads or openings through which a ship can sneak. This was the situation when the Ruppert arrived. The ice kept the sea quiet. Now, however, the ice has broken up and so much of it has floated out to sea that a heavy swell has taken possession of the bay. The ship can no longer crouch in this swell alongside the crumbling ice, because her sides rub against it even when it does not slide into the sea, and her bottom hits submerged ice. So she is drifting in the Bay until conditions change.

From the daily newspaper radio dispatches from the Expedition, which the Club Headquarters also receives, we learn that the day after the ship arrived Arthur Abele had a most thrilling adventure. He had swung over the side of the ship and was standing on a big ledge of ice, with an Eskimo dog in his arms, waiting to board the Mathews motor boat cruiser which was taking men and supplies to a land place further along on the ice. Suddenly his ledge broke off and fell into the sea, with him and the dog on it. By a miracle it landed right side up and did not capsize. Holding the dog safely, Arthur sprang out on his stomach and balanced the floating ice cake until Edgar Cox, steering the cruiser, arrived and Arthur and his pet were hauled aboard. Here is a paragraph we omitted from Arthur's story last week:

"The tractor trip George Noville is planning should be a corker—half way across the entire continent of Antarctica, with a big American Cietrac tractor and two smaller French Citroen tractors. Hope I can go with him but I probably can't. My job is to stay at Little America and learn to be an aviator."

Since that was written, one of the tractors hauling great drums of Tydol gasoline to Pressure Camp caught fire and its wooden body completely burned up, and one of the others caught fire but it was extinguished by Admiral Byrd himself.

More than five thousand people, including several entire school and college geography and science classes, whose teachers are using these stories as weekly lessons, have joined the club by sending self-addressed stamped envelopes to Arthur Abele, Jr., Little America Aviation and Exploration Club, Hotel Lexington, 48th Street and Lexington Avenue, New York, N. Y. There is no charge for joining this Club, organized at Admiral Byrd's request, and all members have received membership cards and a big working map of the South Polar region. A handsome club label button will be sent all members in the near future. If you haven't joined yet, the club will welcome you and your friends.

Old Girl Brings
Court Action

McGraw N. Y. Feb. 6.—(AP)—Four dogs which attacked and mangled a six-year-old girl were sentenced to death today by a Justice of the Peace who held court for them. The four, however, were given reprieves until Feb. 15, or until the danger of rabies passes.

District Attorney W. H. Coon solemnly asked Justice of the Peace, A. P. McGraw, to condemn the animals to death. The Justice, after hearing the evidence, adjourned the court to consider the verdict.

The only defense offered for "Sport," "Curley," "Pal" and "Jack" was that they may not have been the dogs. But 12 persons identified them.

The child was so badly mangled that she is in the hospital and an arm may be amputated. The child was attacked last Wednesday night on her way home from school.

HAWKEYES ARE
INDIANA SQUADVictory of Hoosiers Over
Iowa Was Surprise
Of Season

Chicago, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Minnesota, rated as one of the weaklings of the season in Big Ten basketball, was in second place in the championship race today, and Iowa bright pre-season prospects for the title had dwindled alarmingly.

Another big upset—an Indiana victory over the Hawkeyes last night at Bloomington, 34 to 25, shook Iowa into a tie with the Hoosiers and Indiana managed to take advantage of the opportunity of bouncing from a tie for fourth place to second, by squeezing out a 23 to 22 victory over Chicago.

Although the Gophers have not faced the toughest opposition in the league, their rise has been sensational. They have won their last four starts, taken five out of their last six games, and turned in the first big upset by defeating Iowa, 39 to 38, early in the campaign. Today they stood behind Purdue with five victories and three defeats.

Purdue's defeat last night left Purdue, with its four straight triumphs, in a great position. The Boilermakers have defeated Minnesota, Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin, and meet each team again, in addition to two engagements with Michigan's not very impressive team. Iowa meets Purdue at LaFayette Saturday night, and just about has to win to remain in the race.

Northwestern resumed its season last night with a 24 to 23 victory over Wabash at Evanston, Wisconsin, however, did not fare so well, losing a 23 to 22 decision to Michigan State at Madison.

The hustling Minnesota club will go out of the Big Ten tonight to tackle the toughest team in the midwest, Notre Dame. Purdue returns to action tomorrow night against Wabash at LaFayette.

Mother Shares Honors on Roosevelt Day

In honoring President Roosevelt on his 52nd birthday, New York didn't forget to honor his mother too. Here you see Mrs. James Roosevelt, now in her 80th year, cutting a cake at the Waldorf ball, one of the 5,000 nation wide celebrations held in the President's honor. "What gives the greatest happiness to me," said Mrs. Roosevelt, "is the realization that my son, the President, is receiving a wonderful tribute of affection."

No One Knows Where Garbo Is; Has All Wondering

New York, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Rouben Mamoulian, motion picture director, came to New York today. Greta Garbo did not come.

To interviewers who questioned him concerning rumors he was engaged to the cinema star, Mamoulian was especially illuminating, answering questions with: "No, and 'I wouldn't know about that.'"

The conversation ran something like this: "Do you know where Miss Garbo is?"

Mamoulian: "No."

"Is she coming to New York?"

"I wouldn't know about that."

"Where is Miss Garbo now?"

Mamoulian: "I wonder."

Miss Garbo and Mamoulian, her director, were reported as having left Hollywood at the same time, and presumably bound for New York.

Mamoulian had a vague idea that Miss Garbo was still in Hollywood.

"As for reports we are to be married," he said, "let me say that I am unmarried and have made no plans to marry."

Helpful Hints For Housewives

What To Do With Bread—

And Also What Not To Do

Bread isn't only the staff of life—sometimes it's a kitchen "life-saver."

For instance, if you're having fried oysters, line the dish with slices of bread. This will absorb excess grease. The bread isn't to be eaten.

A piece of bread in the cake box will help to keep the cake from getting stale and hard, but bread in the cracker box will spoil the crackers.

Waxed Paper's a Help

At Dish-Washing Time

Use plenty of waxed paper and it will have dish washing. The paper can be used for lining cake and bread pans, for holding candies to be hardened, for wrapping foods to be stored in the ice box and for wrapping cakes, cookies and lunch box contents.

Berry Pie Juice Saved

By Paper Cornucopia

Here's a way of keeping the flavor and quality of the juice in a berry fruit pie. Make a small cornucopia of paper and cut off the smaller end to make a neat little hole. Then insert this end in the middle of the pie while it is baking. The juice oozes into the cornucopia and when the pie has baked sufficiently it can be slowly dripped back into the pie.

Try A New Pie Crust

Using Toast or Crumbs

Cracker crumbs or toast pie crusts are quite a novelty, and the family will like the change. You can use Graham or regular soda crackers.

Crust well crumbled and for each cup of crumbs add 5 tablespoons of melted butter. Press this mixture with the fingers into a pie pan and then add any desired cooked filling.

When Dates Stick

When cutting dates use scissors or a sharp knife frequently dipped into hot water and the dates will not stick. To remove the sticky paper from dates, cover them with hot water for 2 minutes, drain and the paper will come off easily.

Hints On Flowers

A piece of garlic added to the French dressing.

An equal quantity of whipped cream added to mayonnaise.

Salad dressing instead of butter for the sandwiches.

Killing Kitchen Odors

Do unpleasant cooking odors fill your house? Then try setting a small dish of vinegar on the back of the stove. It will help to kill them.

More Room at The Party

If you're planning a party and have an extra room, pile as much superfluous furniture into it as possible, so that guests will have more space in which to move around in the other rooms.

Farewell for Mr. and Mrs. J. Bauer

St. Anne's society of St. Platen's parish in Harmon, held an open house Thursday night in the hall when they gave a farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bauer, who are moving to Dixon in a short time. The evening was spent in cards, games, dancing and a program, after which a cafeteria supper was enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Bauer were presented with a beautiful chair.

SLENDER EVENING GOWN HAS LONG TIGHT SLEEVES—

Vida Tanner and John Gleason Wed

A pretty wedding which united the lives of Miss Vida Tanner and John C. Gleason was solemnized at 7 o'clock Thursday morning at St. Mary's Church in Sterling. Monsignor A. J. Burns officiated in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Capp.

The bride's gown was fashioned from Lorraine blue crepe and she wore harmonizing accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of sweet peas and rosebuds. Mrs. Capp was attired in a light blue frock and wore a shoulder bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Gleason are a well known and popular young couple. She is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Tanner and lived in Sterling for the past six years. He is the son of Michael Gleason, formerly of the vicinity of Sterling. Mr. and Mrs. Gleason will go to housekeeping in an apartment at 1202 Seventh avenue. They have many friends who wish them happiness.

Banquet and Program Well Attended At Baptist Church

Representatives from the Baptist churches of Sterling, Morrison, Ampico, Freeport, Rockford and Belvidere assembled at the First Baptist church in this city last evening for a banquet and program. The banquet was served to 82 persons at 6:30 and was followed by an interesting program.

Rev. Paul Metzger, missionary in the Belgian Congo was the principal speaker. He is a personal friend of Herbert Gregg, son of W. T. Gregg of this city, who is also serving in the missionary field in that section. Rev. Whitten of Belvidere gave a talk on "Men's Work," which proved very interesting.

SMALL BUSINESS AND THE NRA.

Senator Borah of Idaho and Senator Nye of North Dakota opened fire against the NRA about the time congress convened, basing their objections upon the fact that it was put together for big business to the detriment of the man in small business.

President Roosevelt sought to quiet the objection by creation of another board, to which the small business man may go when he gets no response elsewhere to his complaints.

Then a conference was arranged with Senator Nye, after which the Dakotan indicated that the proposed arrangement was satisfactory, or something like that. Nothing has come from Senator Borah on that subject, and until he takes it up again we shall not know whether he has given up his fight for the small business man.

If the objection were sound in the first instance, we do not see that creation of another board is a cure. It may be some relief to the "big" small business man, who is large enough to engage counsel and to carry his complaints to Washington. We still have that large element engaged in small business that can not afford to engage counsel by the year and keep lawyers boarding in Washington awaiting their turns while boards ponder.

Business of all kinds suffers enough at the hands of state legislatures, where it has to carry on a fight for its existence. But that is closer, the representatives are closer and have more to say.

When we enlarge upon that picture and move the place of action to one end of a country 300 miles long, we make small business that much more helpless.

One more board created in Washington is not a solution of the problem NRA has brought to the small business man. It merely reverses the situation that has existed and that ought to exist. Instead of allowing every business to exist that weathered the storm of three or four years of depression, the proprietor is required to go to Washington and prove his right to continue existence.

That is not of the question for small business.

One man who though he ought to have a medal for keeping his business alive and keeping his employees through the depression was told by a young professor who never met a payroll in his life, that if he couldn't live up to the rules laid down by him and his associates he would have to go out of business. Finally the man found somebody with practical sense enough to save him.

That seems to be the psychology that prevails among that class of rulers. Business exists for the government, not government for business.

Is small business going to be subjected to that rule? Must a man go to Washington and prove to a new board his right to exist? Must a man engage special counsel to obtain the right for him to exist?

President Roosevelt either recognized this injustice or he took note of what was happening in the farm belt, when he cut the municipalities of less than 2500 population off from the workings of the NRA, except in cases of a large business in a small town.

The President was right in that, but he has not righted all the wrong. NRA was created by big business, for big business, and the codes were dominated by big business. The place to try it out is on big business. Then if it proves to be so valuable that everybody wants it, there will be time enough to extend it to small business.

MANY BUSINESS HOUSES BENEFIT BY WHEAT MONEY

$1,377,851 Of Federal Aid Received by Illinois Farmers

Urbana, Ill., Feb. 6.—The butcher, the baker, the candle-stick maker—all are sharing in the $1,377,851, in benefit payments that have been received to date by more than 26,000 Illinois farmers and land-owners who cooperated with the AAA in adjusting their wheat acreage in 1934 and 1935 according to a survey made by the extension service of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Even Santa Claus got a "lift" in some counties where the government checks arrived before Christmas, while other beneficiaries included doctors, hospitals, insurance companies, grocers, clothing merchants, bankers, implement dealers, threshing men, hired help, and so on along the line.

The wheat benefit payments received so far, it is said, do not represent all that is coming to the farmers from the AAA this year.

Before another wheat harvest is over, the total bonus for the 1934 wheat adjustment will amount to approximately $2,618,000. Further improvement in the Illinois farmer's income is anticipated when the exchange value of the products rural people have to sell is increased as a result of the various AAA programs.

One Division

"One farmer here expects to divide his wheat check as follows," writes Farm Adviser L. J. Hager of Marshall-Putnam counties "Implement dealer $10; gasoline bill $10; groceries $10; doctor bill $10 and to use the balance where needed for the best results within the next 60 days."

J. G. McCall, farm adviser in Jackson county, reports that for the greater part money received on wheat payments will be used for taxes; while G. H. Turner, farm adviser in Tazewell county, submits a long list of items for which the farmers in his territory are using the AAA wheat checks. Among other things the list includes: "I bought my wife a new coat and furniture," others paid rent, blacksmith bill, machinery repairs, a note at the bank, interest on money borrowed insurance on buildings and livestock, and bought hog for home meat.

C. C. Burns, farm adviser in Champaign county, is of the opinion that most of the wheat money is being used to pay past due accounts, while others from the various counties reporting in the survey enumerate: "$20.24 for serum and virus to vaccinate hogs," "to purchase coal," and to buy many of the more or less necessities around the farm and home which farmers have had to do without in recent months.

Practically every profession, vocation and business in the state is affected favorably, either directly or indirectly, as the result of the AAA benefit payments, says the college extension service.

The little owls cried, "Hoo, hoo, hoo!" "Gee, I will be glad when they are through with all their crazy school work," whispered we Doty with a smile.

"They think they are entertaining us, but frankly, it's monotonous, just hearing them say 'hoo.' I am going to leave here, after while."

"Why wait?" asked we Duncy. "Let's leave here now. We can sneak out of here somehow. The old owl teacher will not mind. She is busy with her class."

Just then they heard one small owl shout, "Oh, there's the bell and school is out. Wave goodbye to our visitors, as through the door we pass."

In just a little while all of the owls were gone. "Gee, I would love to go back to the shack where we had lunch," we Doty said.

"The old man who was sleeping sound may be set now, to show us 'round. If he is still asleep, he is surely a sleepy head."

"Just wait," the owl teacher cried out, "Each one of you, without a doubt, can have a lot of fun, if you will do just as I say."

"The old man you are going to see is just as clever as can be at making things. If you ask him, he'll make something today."

Then Doty cried, "Thanks for the lunch." And then he very quickly led the bunch back to the shack and shouted, "We are looking for some fun!"

The old man jumped up to his feet. Said he, "I'll give you all a treat. I will build a dandy wooden horse and it soon will be done."

"I have the wood right in my hut. It is cut in proper pieces, but you lads will have to help me nail them all together right."

The Tines gladden lent a hand, and soon the wooden horse could stand. "My goodness," we Doty shouted, "He's a funny looking sight."

(The horse plays a trick on we Duncy in the next story.)

swiftness. So man keeps his unending vigil.

What is he waiting for? Culture? The rich culture of the Greeks did not save them from disaster. Salvation by culture is a futile hope. It may only make us more polished and clever rogues.

Are we waiting for democracy? It is here, having arrived with banners celebrating liberty, equality, fraternity—words soon smeared with blood. Massed ignorance does not make wisdom; truth is not a thing of votes.

Is it a new kind of state that we are looking for? We have had every sort, from Czarism to Communism, and every variety between; from the tyranny of autocracy to the terrors of anarchy. All have been tried, and all have failed, because men were not good enough to make them work.

Is science our Messiah? It was heralded with trumpets in the last century, and it wrought wonders. But today we are half afraid of science. Not all its rays are radiant. It can make poison-gas. As for the machine, it has well nigh mastered us and made us its slaves.

What the world wants is a race of soul-enlightened men, with spiritual insight and ends. As the wise old Bible puts it, we are waiting for the advent of the sons of God—men to subdue the animal in us and let the angel free; men of vision, veracity, and the wisdom of love.

What we need is not more territory, but more devotion. Not more excitement, but more joy!

FEDERAL POWER

Technocracy, if you remember that far back, caused quite a stir for a few weeks. But the very name made it an easy mark for "gag-men," and America soon laughed off the whole thing. Granting that some of the statistics advanced by the Technocrats were not laughing matters, the proponents of the idea were of such slight proportions that they were unable to sell any part of their wares to the world.

As far as this corner can learn, the Technocrats never considered the possibility of developing certain already present industries to such an extent that much additional labor would be required in those fields. If they did advance a suggestion to that end, it was lost in the ballyhoo of 3-hour work days.

It must be admitted that industrial work-weeks were too long a year ago, and they probably should be reduced even more than they have been. But to cut the hours to the desired minimum at once would raise havoc with the prices of industrial goods. The reduction will have to be made gradually; so the distance from 50 hours to perhaps 20 cannot be covered in one leap. But we started out to talk of the development of already present industries; not necessarily their assimilation.

Now here is the electrical industry, for example. It is a field of almost boundless possibilities. Strangely enough, to expand the importance of electricity from the labor angle does not require the finding of new uses for electricity. New uses will naturally come as time goes on. But for the present it is necessary only to make current and appliances available to every potential consumer.

There are hundreds of thousands of farm homes. Each one of these is a prospective buyer of electric irons, vacuum cleaners, washing machines, etc. Some of these farms are equipped with their own power plants, but the cost of these units prohibits universal use. If power lines carrying cheap electricity were stretched along every country road, the electrical appliance industry would be kept busy supplying the demand for goods.

On this matter of cheap electricity there is much debate in Congress at this very time. The whole thing revolves around the St. Lawrence seaway treaty. Much is being said for and against the ratification of the treaty; the press carries the daily story.

The administration's plan is to build several great power plants at strategic points. Besides furnishing much power, these plants will be used as yardsticks to measure the correct amount to be charged the public for service by the pri-

WAITING FOR WHAT?

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton

All the world is waiting for something to turn up, like old Micawber in the Dickens story. Or rather, we are waiting for an upturn to pull us out of the bottomless bog in which we have been buried.

Alas, the weary world has been waiting for ages, expecting some twist of events, some trick of thought, to make things right. Or else for some "far off divine event" to make its dream come true.

Often disappointed, but never losing hope, men have been sure of one thing—that the curtain has not rung up on the last act of the human drama. There is more ahead and that more may come any moment with sudden and satisfying

50 YEARS A MARTYR TO CONSTIPATION

But Kellogg's ALL-BRAN
Brought Welcome Relief

Read this splendid letter from Mrs. Haynes:

"For 50 years I have been a martyr to constipation. Have tried every remedy under the sun.

"One day I read an account of some one who had been relieved by ALL-BRAN, but I thought 'What was the use of me trying anything more when all else had failed?'

"A while after, I read it again. That time I thought I would try it, it would do no harm anyway.

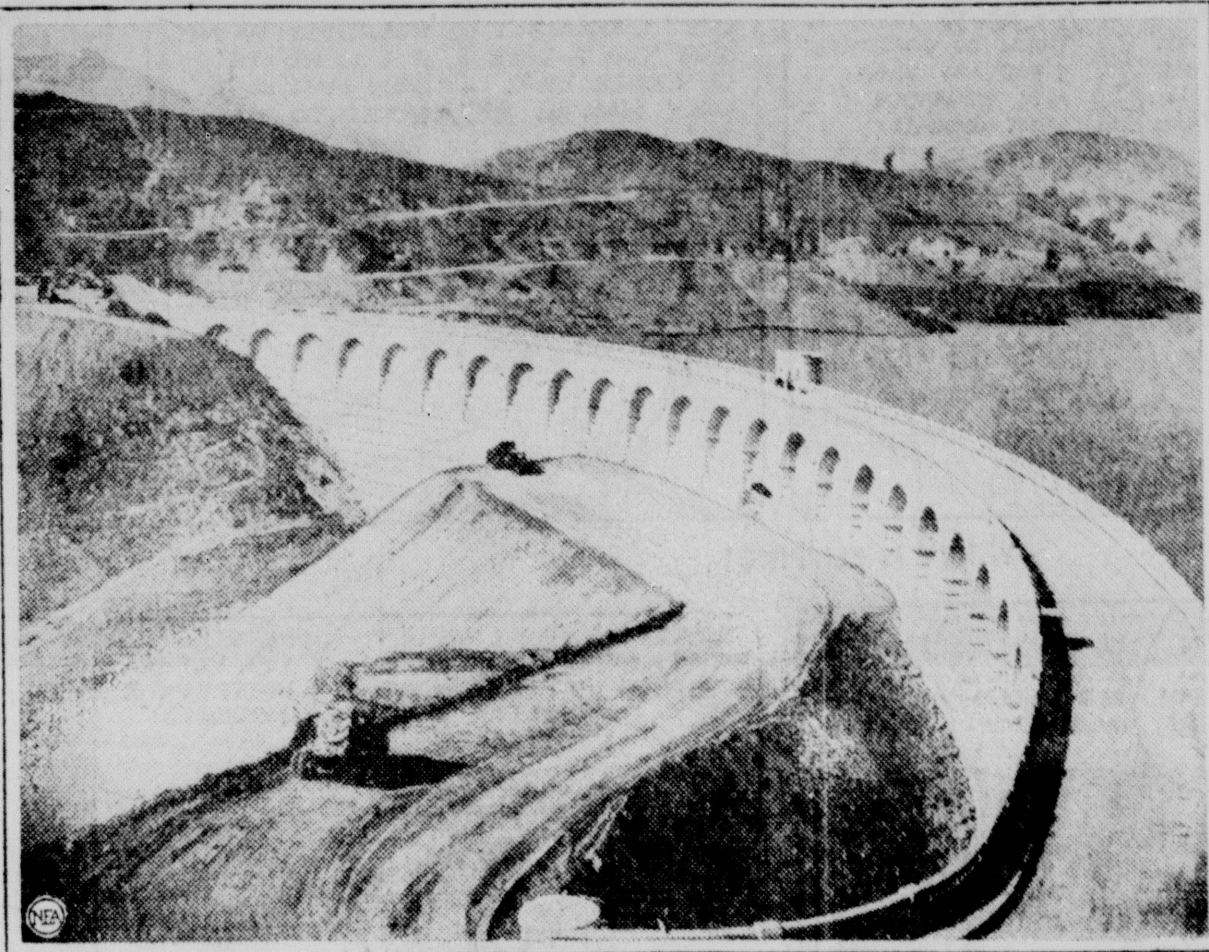

"I began with a small dish of your ALL-BRAN for breakfast, and wonderful to say, I never need to take any physic at all now. How I wish other poor sufferers from constipation could be persuaded to try it."—Mrs. Sarah Haynes, 138 Cedarwood Terrace, Rochester, N. Y.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" and vitamin B to aid regular habits. Also iron for the blood.

This "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. It's so much safer than taking patent medicines! Two tablespoonsful of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Severe cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

HUEY LONG IS BEATEN IN D.C. APPEALS COURT

Senator Must Answer
Libel Charges by Former Judge

Washington, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The District of Columbia Court of Appeals has ruled that Senator Huey P. Long (D. La.) must defend a $500,000 civil action for libel brought by Samuel T. Ansell, former counsel for the Senate committee which investigated the election of Senator Overton (D. La.).

The libel suit is one of two civil actions brought against Long by the former Judge Advocate General of the Army.

When the suits were filed, Long moved to quash service of the civil summons on the ground of immunity from prosecution while in Washington.

This right is given by the Constitution to members of the Senate and House while Congress is in session, Long claimed.

Doesn't Cover Service
The Court of Appeals, however, ruled that the constitutional protection against "arrest" of members of Congress does not cover service of process in civil suits so long as the service does not involve actual detention of the person.

The other suit charged Long with slandering Ansell in a speech on the floor of the Senate. The libel action charged that Long circulated copies of the Congressional Record containing the speech.

"It is unnecessary for us," the court said, "to consider the contents of the published circular that it is alleged was circulated by the defendant. It is sufficient to say that if the allegations of the petition are supported by sufficient evidence, the matter charged constitutes libel per se."

The issue here presented is whether or not a Senator of the United States while serving in his official capacity is exempt from service of civil process in the District of Columbia.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Boxing will return to the Chicago Stadium, February 16, with a ten round non-title bout between Vince Dundee, recognized in New York as middleweight champion, and Ben Jeby of New York, former holder of the title.

Matchmaker Nate Lewis said today the card will include three ten-rounders. He plans to use Frankie Battaglia, slugging Winnipeg, Man., middleweight, in one and Bep van Klaveren, busy Dutch puncher, in the other.

Dundee recently relieved Lou Brouillard of Worcester, Mass., of the middleweight title. Brouillard shortly before had taken it from Jeby. Jeby and Dundee met in a non-title bout last year, going to a draw in 15 rounds.

There has been no professional boxing in the Stadium since Dec. 29, when King Levinsky walloped Don McCormick of South Africa.

BROTHER LEE COUNTY MEN IS VICTIM TRAGEDY

Forrest Hawkins, Oregon, Accidentally Shot to Death

Forrest F. Hawkins, aged 40, of Oregon, a brother of Melford Hawkins of Dixon, and a World War veteran was found dead in the timber about a quarter of a mile from his home west of Oregon Monday afternoon. Death resulted from gunshot wounds. It is believed a shotgun he was carrying accidentally discharged.

Shortly after 1 o'clock, Charles Reed, a farmer living three miles west of Oregon, while at work in one of his fields, heard a shot, and believing someone was hunting rabbits out of season, attempted to locate the hunter. As he came to the top of a small timbered hill about sixty rods distant, he saw a man's body on the ground.

Summoning neighbors, he returned to the spot and found Hawkins dead, a charge from a 12 gauge shotgun shell having torn away part of his head.

At an inquest held at the Farrell undertaking parlors by Coroner J. C. Atkins, of Forreton, at 4 P. M., a verdict of accidental death as a result of a gunshot wound in the head was returned.

Hawkins was the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Hawkins of Pine Creek township, Ogle county. He was born in October, 1893, and was married to Miss Beulah Pettinger, Feb. 15, 1919. Surviving are the widow, two daughters, Ruth 11, and Cleeta Mae, 9, his parents, four brothers Melvin, Compton, Melford, Merle, Pine Creek; and Arthur, Franklin Grove; two sisters also survive: Mrs. John Buser of Hana and Mrs. Ernest Stronbach of Chicago.

Farming Factors

GOOD ROUGHAGE HELPS DAIRY

By W. B. KRUECK
Formerly Professor of Animal Husbandry Purdue University
It is often said that "Good Roughage is the Basis of Profitable Dairying."

This is the time to plan for good legume roughage for the dairy herd. Many farmers will be sowing grass seed this spring and the legumes, such as clover or alfalfa, should not be overlooked. If no legumes were sown last year and the dairy herd faces the possibility of low quality roughage for next winter, soybeans may be sown to fill in for emergency and they will make palatable nutritious hay if cut just when the pods are about half filled.

The chief nutrition problem with most dairymen throughout the country has been to furnish sufficient protein to properly balance the starchy grains that are grown on the farm. If low quality roughages are used it requires more protein rich feeds, such as Soybean Oil Meal, Cottonseed Meal, or Linseed Oil Meal, to balance the ration. The growing of good legumes reduces the amount of such feeds necessary and therefore reduces the cost of the ration.

In addition to being rich in protein such roughages are much more palatable for the cow and the growing of the crop helps to improve the soil.

There are very few farms that will not grow legumes if proper soil conditions are provided. In some cases drainage may be necessary, and in other cases it may be that liming is required. But if the dairyman will study his soils and make an honest effort to have an abundance of legume hay for the dairy herd he will find his herd, his farm, and his bank account in better condition.

Smart women in America are "making up" their legs, using different shades for sports, afternoon and evening wear, now that the no-stocking fad has become general.

Daily Health Talk

TREATING TOE RINGWORM
Ringworm between the toes may prove to be a very annoying condition.

Small vesicles—that is, minute blister-like swellings in the skin—form and, in time, break. Then the surface underneath becomes raw, red and angry. The itching may be intense, causing the sufferer to rub and scratch, which action, of course, only aggravates the condition.

The vesicles may be the direct effect of the parasite growing in the skin of the toes, or they may be remote results of ringworm parasites growing elsewhere.

It has been demonstrated in recent years that in ringworm infections the body becomes sensitized, so that skin lesions may develop in parts of the body not immediately involved by the ringworm fungus. In most instances, however, the skin of the toes and the foot is actually the seat of growth of the ringworm.

Ringworm of the toes may be treated by painting the affected area with a weak alcoholic solution of iodine. The solution should be from 3 to 5 per cent in strength and should be painted on once a day.

The treatment should be kept up until the vesicles have disappeared. Thereafter the skin should be painted once every other day, and still later once a week for several months after apparent cure.

Instead of using the alcoholic solution of iodine, a 1 per cent water solution of potassium permanganate may be employed. It should be borne in mind that both iodine and potassium permanganate may prove very irritating especially to those persons whose skins are hypersensitive.

If any extraordinary reactions of the skin are noticed, such as ex-

Dead Doctor Heals Stomach Ailments

A weird story is told of a well-known specialist reaching from the grave to cure stomach ailments. Years ago this doctor created a prescription for stomach ailments, acid stomach, gas pains, heartburn, indigestion, bloating, belching, and other symptoms when caused by excess acid. Then the good doctor died. But his name brought fame after death as one user told another of his wonderful prescription. In the past six years, 94,000 grateful persons have written letters telling of their recoveries. This prescription is now known to hundreds of thousands as the Udega Treatment. ## ROSENBLUM HAS CLOSE CALL FOR TITLE LAST EVE

Lost Lot of Tail Feathers to Fast Georgia Light Heavyweight

Miami, Fla., Feb. 6.—(AP)—Maxie Rosenbloom still ruled the light heavyweight roost today, but minus a handful of tail feathers, plucked out by the up and coming Joe Knight of Cairo, Ga., in a fierce fought 15-round title bout here that ended in a draw.

In his first crack at a world's championship during his colorful career, the slugging southerner rushed the Harlem playboy about the canvas with surprising speed and punch, and only missed gaining possession of the crown by virtue of a last-minute rally by the titleholder.

The fight, held in the Madison Square Garden Arena, was the first championship bout staged in Florida in 40 years, and was witnessed by approximately 23,000 spectators. Garden officials said the gate receipts were about $35,000.

"Joe is the best kid in the country for this title," said Maxie afterward. "It was tough fighting with Joe's thumb in my eye every round."

"It was hard for me to fight with Rosenbloom flapping lefts in my face," was all Knight had to say.

Neither Badly Hurt

Neither was badly bruised in the encounter. The challenger carried the fight to the champion for the first few rounds, but toward the middle of the scrap Rosenbloom settled down to give Knight a first class lesson in the gentle art of cuffing and jabbing some of it at lightning speed. Knight took everything he had, and seldom retreated.

Once Rosenbloom drew blood from Knight's nose, and another time he received a reprimand from the referee for back-fist slapping.

Coming back at the tenth round, the Georgia boy belted the champion about the ring consistently and from then until the final round he steadily rolled up valuable points.

In the last round Rosenbloom mustered all his reserve strength and tore into the Georgia fighter, planting blows to the challenger's head and body in rapid succession. The bell sounded as Rosenbloom was giving him a severe aching.

The league feels that a long step has been taken toward reviving baseball interest and team strength in the home of the Reds, one of the original powers in organized baseball. The acquisition of control by Crosey and his associates is considered the most important development for the older circuit, from the standpoint of ownership, since the Chicago club was taken over by the Wrigley interests.

REDS PLAN CHAIN

New York, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The new owners of the Cincinnati Reds energetically seeking baseball strength wherever it may be hidden, announced completion today of negotiations with the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League for a working agreement between the two clubs.

First big link in which General Manager Larry MacPhail hopes will be a chain of such agreements with teams of every baseball classification, the agreement gives the preference in the purchase of Toronto players, Cincinnati, in turn, agrees to send its surplus playing talent to Toronto.

"What we are trying to do is to build up a system as quickly and cheaply as we can," MacPhail explained.

Scouting System
It was pointed out that the Reds' General Manager, through his work as a football official, had extensive personal connections all throughout the Big Ten conference territory. His plans, if they mature, include a scouting system whereby the Reds will have a good judge of baseball talent in university towns, watching promising inter-collegiate players as well as sand lot performers during the summer season.

MacPhail and Powell Grosby, Jr., millionaire manufacturer who was elected president of the club Sunday, have spent hours in negotiations with Branch Rickey, general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, in an effort to reach a basis for trading but so far without luck. The Reds are ready to do business with any club in the league if MacPhail and his associates think they can strengthen the team.

TRADE TALK IS HEARD AT MEET OF BALL BOSSES

But the Outlook is Dark for Bargain Hunters in National Loop

By ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, Feb. 6.—(AP)—National League baseball clubs, led by the optimistic new ownership of the Cincinnati Reds, may swing a few more player deals before flinging their 1934 challenge to the champion New York Giants, but the outlook today was far from encouraging to the bargain-hunters.

"We are anxious to strengthen the Reds in every department," said red-haired Leland Stanford (Larry) MacPhail, the general manager of the Cincinnati club and spokesman for the new president, Powell Grosby Jr. "We have several deals in mind and we hope to continue negotiations with the St. Louis Cardinals, mainly because they have the most material at their disposal."

"We are standing pat unless somebody makes us an offer that we can't turn down," chorused the Pittsburgh delegates, President William Ben Swanger and Manager George Gibson. "The Pirates are well fortified."

Dodgers in Market
"We are in the market," reiterated Bob Quinn, business manager, and Manager Max Carey of the Dodgers, "but where can we get what we need without handling over Brooklyn bridge to bird the bargain?"

"The Phillies are in a receptive mood for either a first class outfielder or infielder, or both," remarked Gerald Nugent, the club president, in company with his new manager, Jimmy Wilson, "but we won't part with a fellow like Don Hurst, under any circumstances."

Whether the purchase of Ethan Allen, fleet fly-chaser, from the St. Louis Cardinals, last night was regarded by Nugent as solving the Phillies' outfield problems couldn't be determined. Allen, a veteran of eight years major league experience in Cincinnati, New York and St. Louis, batted only 241 for the Cardinals in 91 games last year.

The Phillies bought him for an unannounced sum in a straight cash deal.

All Want Two For One
"The trouble is that everybody talking trade wants two for one," smiled Bill McKeebine, shrewd pilot of the Boston Braves. "We have done a lot of talking but most of those propositions you have been reading about are a lot of pipe dreams."

Meanwhile the energetic Branch Rickey, general manager of the Cardinal system, was busy bouncing from one conference to another and had little time to reveal what, if anything, his organization would engineer further for the benefit of the baseball business. Rickey willingly talked with anyone who had any ideas on the subject.

As for the Giants, they seemed satisfied to let their case rest where it wound up at the successful close of the 1933 season, while their manager, Bill Terry, concentrates his time upon the oil and radio business. The Chicago Cubs, too, appear to be contented with their prospects, without further bickering, now that Chuck Klein is in the fold.

To Welcome Crosey
With the schedule adopted for 1934 and the business of approving the live ball already attended to, the mid-winter meeting of National League club owners this afternoon appeared mainly to serve the purpose of welcoming Crosey and the new Cincinnati ownership into the family circle.

The league feels that a long step has been taken toward reviving baseball interest and team strength in the home of the Reds, one of the original powers in organized baseball. The acquisition of control by Crosey and his associates is considered the most important development for the older circuit, from the standpoint of ownership, since the Chicago club was taken over by the Wrigley interests.

REDS PLAN CHAIN
New York, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The new owners of the Cincinnati Reds energetically seeking baseball strength wherever it may be hidden, announced completion today of negotiations with the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League for a working agreement between the two clubs.

First big link in which General Manager Larry MacPhail hopes will be a chain of such agreements with teams of every baseball classification, the agreement gives the preference in the purchase of Toronto players, Cincinnati, in turn, agrees to send its surplus playing talent to Toronto.

"What we are trying to do is to build up a system as quickly and cheaply as we can," MacPhail explained.

Scouting System
It was pointed out that the Reds' General Manager, through his work as a football official, had extensive personal connections all throughout the Big Ten conference territory. His plans, if they mature, include a scouting system whereby the Reds will have a good judge of baseball talent in university towns, watching promising inter-collegiate players as well as sand lot performers during the summer season.

MacPhail and Powell Grosby, Jr., millionaire manufacturer who was elected president of the club Sunday, have spent hours in negotiations with Branch Rickey, general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, in an effort to reach a basis for trading but so far without luck. The Reds are ready to do business with any club in the league if MacPhail and his associates think they can strengthen the team.

Married Flirts

GYPSE MORELL AND TOM WEAVER are married on the same day as LILA HOTATING and DICKER BILLS, but LILA's wedding is a society event while Gypsy's is very simple.

While Lila lives in luxury Gypsy has to struggle to keep expenses within Tom's income. She keeps her job teaching until she learns she is to have a baby after DAVID's birth she is extremely busy caring for him and for her home.

Tom is frequently away in the evening and Gypsy suspects he is interested in VERA GRAY who works in the same office.

Lila confessed to Gypsy that she intends to divorce Derek and marry MARK O. BROUGHTON, richer and older. Lila persisted in trying to call Marko and give him a message. Tom overhears and misunderstands. He and Gypsy quarrel but are reconciled.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXIX

It would be fun, Gypsy said to herself on the Tuesday following their reconciliation, to go down and surprise Tom at lunch time. Somehow she never seemed to have time or spirit for these small honeymoon gayeties any more. She dressed in her best—the new gray suit, the postage stamp and perched on her shining crop of curls. The spring wind blew chaff and papers in the streets. The sun sent slanting bright shafts of sunlight into the gray canyons. It was a perfect day for an adventure.

She went up in the bronze elevator, smiling secretly at her own daring. The girl at the information desk was new and did not recognize her. She didn't give her name. Was Mr Weaver in? The girl, who had the head and shoulders of a wax mannequin, spoke softly into a telephone and informed her that Mr Weaver was just on his way out to lunch. What name?

"I'll wait here," Gypsy sat in the deep divan which swallowed up her smallness. In the dim light her gray costume was scarcely noticeable against the taupe background. Presently she heard Tom's step and almost started to her feet. But as he emerged from the corridor she saw he was not alone. A tall, glaucous girl was with him. He had her arm and was speaking to her earnestly. They seemed utterly absorbed. They did not see her as they stood waiting for the down elevator.

Gypsy's heart felt as though an icy hand were clutching it. She stood perfectly still as the elevator door clanged open and shut and Tom's laugh rang out as the car shot downward. The information clerk glanced up curiously as she rose to go.

"Why, Mr. Weaver left just now. Didn't you see him?"

"No — I — I," she floundered. "I'll be back later."

"Anything I can do?" The wax mannequin was helpful.

Gypsy's eyes wandered past her. Anything she could do? No, there was nothing anyone could do for her today. She had trusted him so completely, so utterly and yet she must believe the evidence of her eyes. How absorbed he had been! She had seen right — she had been right all the time!

She walked aimlessly down Broadway. Past Trinity church yard with doves wheeling in the sunshine past block after block of stone facades and plate glass and table d'hote restaurants and haberdashers.

A hooded subway entrance at Park Place reminded her that she must be home before it was time for Elsa to leave. She ran down the stairs and clicked past the turnstile, paying her fare. There was the baby to be thought of. If all else failed if b world

"Sweetheart," But she eluded Tom's arms.

"I'm busy," she said aloofly. "Will you see if the baby's all right? I thought I heard him stirring."

"O K," Tom wore a faulty puzzled look. Gypsy had never been in this particular mood before.

The little dinner was a complete success so far as the guest was concerned. The soup was a canned green turtle v. rict with sherry. Gypsy had bought it months before in a moment of unwonted extravagance and had been reserving it ever since for a special occasion.

It lent a touch of elegance to the meal, a simple affair of breaded pork chops and sweet potatoes and string beans.

Tom, who knew now his wife had been treasuring the green turtle soup, lifted his brows in mild surprise as that course ap-

In a tri-state project story contest Dixon won fourth, fifth and eighth places, Fred Benson won the fourth position and this is his story:

MY PROJECT WORK IN HIGH SCHOOL

Fred Benson 1933-34

When I entered high school I was confronted with the problem of what to take for my project. After much debate I selected a purebred Poland China gilt from a large herd nearby. I paid the sum of $35.00 for my gilt. She had a uniform arch of black, large and well developed hams, smooth on the sides, deep in the heart, well balanced on all four feet and she had a very matronly looking head.

I fed a well balanced ration of shelled corn, ground oats, tankage and oil meal until ten days before farrowing. I then took away all corn to relieve any danger of fever at farrowing time.

I had purchased an individual house, in excellent shape for $15.00. It was of special design to keep the old sow from laying on the small pigs. I scraped it free of all dirt and filth. I then scrubbed it with plenty of boiling hot lye water and later disinfected it thoroughly. This was my first step in my swine sanitation program.

I continued my sanitation program by washing my gilt in warm water and soap twice before she farrowed. I kept the pen dry, free from manure and excess bedding. I stayed with my gilt continually from farrowing time until my pigs were 72 hours old. I saw that they nursed and did not chill in the cold air.

When my gilt farrowed I placed the six young pigs in large baskets heated by a gallon jug filled with warm water every two hours.

Eight hours after the gilt had farrowed, I fed her a thin slop of linseed oil meal. This she ate readily and served as an excellent laxative.

Gradually I increased her feed and at the end of 10 days she was eating heartily as ever.

When the young pigs were at the age of 2 weeks, I hauled them to the clean red clover pasture and to the clean house. This land had not had hogs on it for twelve years.

This was the biggest step in my swine sanitation program.

When the small pigs were three weeks of age I had a creep in one corner of the house. I put rolled oats, warm whole milk and small amounts of 60 per cent tankage. They drank the milk readily and at the end of ten days ate the tankage. They drank the milk readily and at the end of ten days ate the tankage as well.

From the time the pigs were of four weeks to four months of age, I fed them a ration of soaked shelled corn, ground oats, soybeans, tankage, oil meal and limited amounts of skim milk. When the hogs were four months of age I increased the corn fed daily to make my hogs carry a little more condition and appear better for the fair.

I fitted them for the show by washing them twice before the fair. I kept the pens well bedded and free from manure. I powdered the white feet and head of the individuals. I used paraffine oil on the black to give the hair a fine and glossy finish.

My litter placed fifth in the 4-H fair. My gilt placed third and my two barrows placed third and sixth in a class of thirty. They returned me $15.00 in prize money.

I kept my three best gilts for my project the coming year. They were smoother on the side, deeper in body, more uniform in arch of back and stood better on their feet, especially in the pasterns than did my first gilt. This was my first improvement for a purebred herd.

The keeping of three gilts for the previous year brought up the question of housing for the gilts and practically of various types of houses. I found that I could build a better house by buying the material and building a shed type house. My father and myself built the house on the barn floor at a total cost of $70.00. This house was 10 feet long. It provided ample room for the gilts. I placed the third gilt in my individual house.

I purchased the champion boar of our County Fair for $30.00. This was the best boar I could possibly find. He was more compact, smoother over the shoulder, deeper in the side and had more quality than any of my gilts. I bred my gilts to this boar for early March farrow.

My father also used this boar and this cut the cost of service per sow.

I fed my gilts practically the same as the year before on a balanced ration of shelled corn, tankage, ground oats, oil meal, and limited amounts of skim milk. Four days before the gilts were due to farrow I cut off all corn fed in their ration and substituted laxative feeds, such as slop of linseed oil meal once a day to keep the digestive system working freely.

My gilts were washed twice with warm water and soap to kill all worm eggs that cling to the udder and body of the sow.

I scrubbed my individual house with boiling hot lye water and disinfected it and placed my gilts in these houses. The houses were banked with straw and corn fodder. In the large house I hung two lanterns to keep off some of the chill at farrowing until the young pigs were 72 hours old.

My three gilts farrowed me 21 live and strong pigs. I cared for them practically the same as the year before.

When the pigs were three weeks of age I put them all in the large house.

I made a creep the width of the house in one end of the house. I placed warm whole milk and rolled oats in here. They ate it readily at the end of 10 days. I fed them the same ration as I had used the year before.

I weighed them at the age of 6 months. They weighed 210 pounds average over the scale. I thought this was good feeding.

I washed them and put them in shape as I had done the year before and showed them in the 4-H fair winning $12.00 in prize money.

I showed them in the Vocational Agriculture Fair and won $12.00 in prize money, a total of $30.00 for the year.

I will keep my best gilts and breed them to the best boar possible for next year's project.

As well as being interested in hogs I wanted to have a dairy herd. I selected two calves from a large Holstein herd nearby for $10.00 a piece at 10 days of age. They did exceptionally well on a ration of (corn and oats ground together), alfalfa hay, mineral made of steamed home meal and salt and linseed meal with salt available at all times. They weighed 680 pounds and 720 pounds at fair time. They did exceptionally well. I plan to raise all the heifer calves and build up a purebred herd of Holstein cows of good producers and high butterfat.

I also had four acres of corn. I had two acres of Krug and two acres of Silvermine white corn. I planted it on good black soil. It was an old sweet clover sod. I put on an application of 4 tons of fine limestone per acre because of its acid condition. I cultivated the corn five times and it was free from weeds.

The yellow corn yielded 60.37 bushels per acre and the white yielded 68.72 bushels per acre. I showed my corn in the Vocational Agriculture Fair and won $15.00 in prize money.

I kept the best seed for my project the next year. I tested it on the germinator and shelled the better parts of the good ears.

I plowed the sweet clover in the spring about 7 inches deep in which I planted my four acres of Krug corn. The soil was in perfect shape, free from lumps and well packed.

The white corn was planted on an old blue grass pasture. This land had an application of 8 tons of well rotted manure per acre. I cultivated all the corn five times. It was kept free from weeds at all times.

The white corn yielded 58.72 bushels per acre while the yellow yielded 69.68 bushels per acre. Under the same conditions they compare favorably.

I exhibited my corn in the Vocational Agriculture Fair and won $12.00 in prize money.

Cost for producing 100 lbs. of pork was $2.14.

My cost of producing corn per bushel was 75 cents.

From my projects these two years I realized a net profit of $360.56. This does not include prize money won at various fairs which totals $72.00. This makes me a total profit of $432.56 for my first two years in agriculture work.

Farms Can Get In On the Corn-Hog Program Without It

Farmers who find it impossible to secure evidence of all hogs sold by them in the past two years should not allow that fact to discourage them from making an application for an allotment contract for corn-hog reduction, says D. E. Warren, Ogle County Farm Adviser.

D. H. M. R. T. M. U. F. A. T. F. U. R. H. K. The Agricultural Adjustment Administration has provided in the form for reporting the hogs sold, a place to indicate whether or not supporting evidence is attached. It is intended that in case of sales for which such evidence as account sales, scale tickets, shipping association statements, etc., can be secured, that these slips be attached to the producers statements of disposal of hogs raised, and the word 'yes' be written in the column headed 'Evidence Attached.'

If, however, there are sales for which no evidence can be secured the producer is to write 'no' in this column after the statement of hogs sold and turn in his statement just the same. If sufficient evidence is given to satisfy the township and county allotment committees that the statement is honest and is as nearly correct as it can be made, it is probable they will pass it without further questioning. The committee is at liberty to investigate any case that seems doubtful, and any person giving insufficient evidence of hog sales will be advised as to what form of evidence it may be possible for him to secure.

Any one in doubt of his ability to satisfy this requirement should at least go and sign an application card. This first signature is not binding upon the producer and there will be ample opportunity for the signer to complete all the information that is required of him before the contracts are made out and ready for final signatures.

It is not at all probable that any producer will be barred from signing a reduction contract because he cannot furnish evidence of his production. Most farmers know pretty nearly how many hogs they raised and when they sold them and to whom they were sold. In the absence of a cash or inventory record the farmer should estimate his hog sales as accurately as he can and consult the township committee in charge of the sign up station as to what further evidence he may secure as to the accuracy of his statement.

Sign-up meetings will be begun in Ogle County next week. Applicants should come with work sheets, map forms and a statement of hog disposals filled out as accurately and completely as they can in order to save time for the committee who will assist them. Several days will be allowed for the signing of applications in each township.

Farmers who find it impossible to secure evidence of all hogs sold by them in the past two years should not allow that fact to discourage them from making an application for an allotment contract for corn-hog reduction, says D. E. Warren, Ogle County Farm Adviser.

173 WISCONSIN HOLSTEINS ARE SOLD TO BOLIVIA

Big Shipment Is Now On Way To So. American Country

What is reported to be the largest export of registered Holstein cattle left Ft. Atkinson, Wisconsin on January 17th for Bolivia, So. America. A total of 173 head of Holstein cattle and a few hogs sheep and chickens constituted the shipment purchased by Jorge Ortiz for his large plantation in Bolivia. James B. Ball, manager of the American Live Stock Export Corporation at St. Charles, Ill., was in direct charge of buying the cattle. Purchases were made from prominent Holstein breeders in Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa and Minnesota. The 170 head of females were sent to Bolivia to be freshened within four months and out of dams with production records of at least 10,000 pounds of milk.

Among the larger consigners were: Elmwood Farms, Deerfield, Illinois, 9 head; Jefferson County Asylum, Jefferson, Wisconsin, 12 head; Wisconsin State Hospital, Mendota, 10 head; Milwaukee House of Correction, 6 head; Pabst Farms, Oconomowoc, Wisconsin, 6 head; St. Croix County Farm, Wisconsin, 6 head; Iowa Farms, Davenport, 8 head; Milford Meadows, Lake Mills, Wisconsin, 5 head; Joy Brothers, Minneapolis, 9 head. Three high record bulls were included from the Babst, Elmwood and Iowa Farms.

The shipment was loaded onto the Nas Line steamer at Norfolk, Virginia, on January 27 to start its long sea voyage down through the Panama Canal to Autogastoga, Chile. At that port it will be transferred to a narrow gauge railroad and transported to Bolivia. Mike Sewart, the veteran Holstein showman from Maynard, Iowa with two helpers are in charge of the shipment and will go as far as Chile. It will take about forty days to make the trip from Wisconsin to Bolivia.

the registered Holstein herd owned by James Cornue, Maywood Farm, Hebron, Illinois has been in Cow Testing Association work. The average yearly yield amounts to 11,877 pounds of milk and 433 pounds of fat which is believed to be a world's record for fourteen years in CTA work. During the past nine years the herd has averaged twenty-four cows. The production has remained quite uniform year after year. In 1931 the peak was reached with an average of 13,067 pounds of milk and 483.1 pounds of butterfat for 21.75 cows. The low year in fat yield occurred in 1927 with an average of 405.2 it is estimated that an average dairy cow in the United States produces about 4,600 pounds of milk and 180 pounds of butterfat the Maywood herd has produced about two and one-half times the yield of average dairy cows. If all of the dairy cows in the United States were as efficient producers as those in the Cornue herd it would only take 9,200,000 cows to supply the milk needs of the nation instead of the present number of over 23,000,000.

Cow Testing Assn. Growing Rapidly: May Form Another

The Lee County Cow Testing Association, is growing so rapidly that it is expected it will be divided into two associations in the near future. There are now 32 herds of dairy cattle on test and six new members have been added recently Jesse Sivitts, Harry Jones, Ward Shank, John Becker, Jacob Heckman and Clarence Lenox.

Lizard Has Defensive Weapons

The Mexican spiny lizard, though an entirely helpless creature so far as defending itself physically is concerned, is provided by nature with three very effective means of self-protection. These reptiles are so covered with sharp spines that they can be handled only with difficulty. The spines also serve as a protection for the lizard because they form what might be termed a cloak of invisibility, so closely imitating the fragments of larval rock and other mineral debris amongst which the various species of spiny lizards are found as to allow its possessor to escape detection by an enemy. In case the spines fail to protect the lizard either from discovery or attack, however, the animal can confound an enemy by ejecting a thin stream of blood with great force from the corner of each eye.

The Mississippi river started as a tributary to a large river in Minnesota 18,000 years ago, a government scientist reports.

THE HEIGHT OF GOOD TASTE

In making Lucky Strike Cigarettes we use the finest Turkish and domestic tobacco—and only the center leaves for they are the mildest and the most tender. And every Lucky is so round, so firm, so fully packed—no loose ends.

NOT the top leaves—they're under-developed—they are harsh!

THE Cream of the Crop

NOT the bottom leaves—they're inferior in quality—coarse and almost sandy!

Always the Finest Tobacco and only the Center Leaves
